Celebrate springtime in Lancaster County...

February 2007

Pennsylvania Dutch Convention & Visitors Bureau

February 20, 2007

Greetings from Lancaster County!

Explore Our Creative Side this Spring in PA Dutch Country!

It's a whole new side to Pennsylvania Dutch Country – and this side's full of brilliant color, music, sculpture and more. This spring, let your creative juices flow with an artsy-themed press visit to Lancaster County. Explore First Fridays, when funky downtown art galleries keep their doors open late, or visit the Master Artists whose inspirations lie along the Susquehanna River. The arts come alive onstage too – from Broadway musicals to spectacular original productions, there's always something to see. So come – and explore your creative side here with a press visit to Pennsylvania Dutch Country!

Your trip could include:

Artsy Lodging: Your creative juices will begin to flow just from being in these surroundings – from the local art adorning the walls at the new Lancaster Arts Hotel to your chance to spend the night in an art gallery at the Artist's Inn & Gallery. Complimentary or media rate lodging is available for qualified journalists, based on availability.

Onstage Premieres: Grab Lancaster County certainly shows its creativity with two world premiere stage productions this spring. Join the Fulton Theatre in downtown Lancaster for the world premiere musical Around the World in 80 Days or take a trip back in time with Sight & Sound Millennium Theatre as it unveils the story of Creation with In the Beginning.

The Art of the Brick: This spring marks the perfect blend of nostalgia and creativity at the Lancaster Museum of Art, where artist Nathan Sawaya presents an exhibit of all things Lego! These aren't your ordinary creations, though – Sawaya's built everything from the Statue of Liberty to a self-portrait out of the blocks! Another gallery in the museum will offer visitors the chance to try their own Lego creations – so let that creativity flow!

Antiquing: These treasures of the past will awaken those creative rumblings in the back of your mind and encourage you to discover all kinds of new and interesting finds. Get there early for the best selection and deals. With more than 3000 antiques dealers in Lancaster County, it's no wonder it's called the Antiques Capital, USA!
